

New Account Procedures

To help the government fight the funding of terrorism and money laundering activities Federal law requires all financial institutions to obtain, verify, and record information that identifies each person or entity that opens an account. What this means for you: when you open an account, at a minimum we must be provided with your name, street address, tax identification number, and any other information that will allow us to establish the identity of our customers.